

Appendix

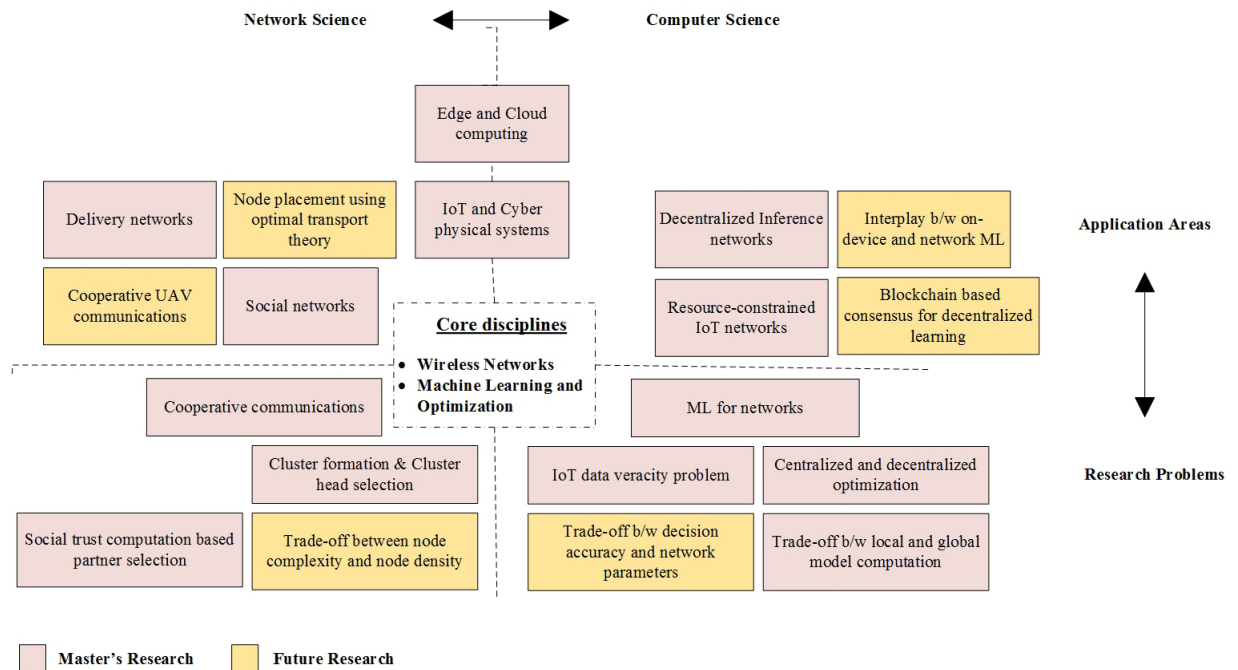

Figure 1: Overview of my master's research (pink) and future plans (yellow) around the theme of Machine Learning for Wireless Networks. The left portion represents Network science-driven topics and the right portion represents Computer science-driven topics. The fundamental research problems are at the bottom, and applications are at the top